

A Crime Story

Here are two opening sentences of a crime story. Finish it in about 300 words and give it a title.

The train came to a halt in the middle of the forest, and every light inside went out at once. In the darkness, Elena heard the conductor whisper, "Don't move—they're watching us."

Room for corrections

Room for corrections